99-104.3

1 of 1

A. Background:

Resources are evaluated as shown in this section.

B. Policy:

1. Timing of Resource Determination:

Resource determinations are made as of the “first moment of the month;” based on:

- What assets an individual has
- What their values are
- Whether or not any of the items can be excluded as of the “first moment of the month.”

2. Provisions:

Apply the following provisions, as appropriate:

- Any increase or decrease in the value of resource during the month is considered as of the first moment of the next month
- Items received during a month are counted first under the income rules and then, if retained, counted as a resource as of the first moment of the following month
- If an applicant/recipient sells, exchanges, or replaces a resource, the receipts are not income. They are still considered a resource. See 99-104.5 regarding transfer of resources.

C. Procedure:

Complete the resource determination as stated in the policies above.

Other Program Impacts:

None.
